HDFC Pharma and Healthcare Fund NFO

Your Prescription for Investment Success

In a world where healthcare is increasingly in the spotlight, investing in the pharma and healthcare sector presents a unique opportunity. India, with its growing population and healthcare advancements, is at the forefront of this revolution. HDFC Pharma and Healthcare Fund is a carefully curated investment opportunity that taps into the potential of India's healthcare prowess.

Healthcare Sector Overview: The Road Ahead

India's healthcare sector, while promising, still has room for growth:

- The healthcare spend to GDP ratio remains among the lowest globally.
- Rural healthcare penetration is low relative to the population size.
- Private healthcare spending is increasing, indicating opportunities for investors.
- Well-Rounded Growth Outlook for Domestic Pharma.

Hospitals: A Lucrative Market

Hospitals are growing with a ₹5.6 trillion TAM (Total Addressable Market) in FY23, yet India has fewer beds compared to other emerging markets, indicating under-penetration. Foreign medical tourism is set to quadruple by 2030, providing significant growth opportunities.

Generics and Biosimilars: A Cost-Efficient Solution

Generics and biosimilars have been a key driver of savings in the global healthcare market. India's share in US generics continues to rise, and the biosimilars market remains untapped, offering long-term growth potential for Indian companies.

CDMO: Outsourcing as an Opportunity

Contract Development and Manufacturing Organizations (CDMOs) play a crucial role in the pharmaceutical industry. Indian pharma companies are increasingly contributing to global innovation through the CDMO route.

The HDFC Pharma and Healthcare Fund offers a unique investment proposition:

Core Portfolio: Over 80% invested in pharma and healthcare companies in sectors like Pharmaceuticals, Hospitals, and Healthcare Services.

Multi-Cap Strategy: Diverse investments across market segments and sizes.

Structural Growth Drivers: Focus on companies in growing sectors, using technology and scale for market share.

Diverse Healthcare Opportunities: The healthcare sector offers varied growth paths. Targeted stock selection can outperform benchmarks."
